This event is the beginning of a multi-year national campaign to shift the narrative on higher education by uniting labor, student, debtor, and community groups around a call for reconstructing higher ed as a public good in the public interest.

Share this event with your networks via social media or email using our Higher Education for All! The Future is Free Outreach Toolkit found at <https://bit.ly/HigherEdforAllOutreach>.

We must not only fight at the bargaining table to advance our movement campus-by-campus, system-by-system, but we must also politicize our struggles at the state and national level. By fighting on both fronts, we will win the lasting, equitable, and universal reforms we need to end the crises of contingency, debt, downsizing, outsourcing, and community unaccountability.

will survey the rise of mass, affordable higher education and the racist, sexist, and red scare backlash against higher education's diversification, which spurred the ongoing wave of disinvestment and neoliberalization. We will map out what a transformed, publicly-accountable higher education system could mean for our communities and our country.

We invite unions, organizations, and community members to commit to the fight as we build state and national campaigns to advance our Higher Education for All agenda.

Join us by registering here and share broadly using our Outreach Toolkit.

Solidarity,

Higher Ed Labor United
